GAS QUESTION NEXT YEAR WILL BE IMPORTANT

Monday Next is Nomination Day and Gas Question will Part in it.

Monday next is nomination day for candidates for the council and school board and it is hoped that a large number of ratepayers will be present at the proceedings which are of great importance at this stage of the town's development. There will doubtless be many important matters to come before both boards during the ensuing year, not the least being the gas question.

Several names have been mentioned as possible candidates for mayor and whilst the STAR is not playing any favorites, we feel sure that the ratepayers will raise to the occasion and will faithfully serve the best interests of the town.

On the school board there will be three vacancies in the automatic expiration of the terms of Chairman Grows, and Trustees McLeod and Ward. The retiring chairman does not intend offering himself for re-election. No names have been mentioned to fill the vacancies.

Quite a number have approached P. E. Ross with a view to having him in the field for mayor when election day comes around. Whether or not he will accept a nomination is a question that remains to be seen.

There is no truth in a report that the Southern Press has purchased the STAR and that it will become a political organ. With our next issue the policy the new management intends following will be fully outlined.

Mrs. Crampton, who collected money for the soldiers at the front to buy tobacco for Xmas forwarded $35 to England last week. It was previously reported through those columns that the amount was $20.

WAINWRIGHT-VIKING DEBATE NEXT WEEK

The first debate in connection with the Department of Extension work will be held at Viking on the evening of December 11th. The team from Wainwright will be Harry King as leader, supported by Peter Milne. On the same evening there will be a team sent from Viking to Wainwright the home debaters being Miss Ideals Gregory and Miss Mildred King.

Visiting teams in both cases take the affirmative side of the question. The resolution—"That the consolidated school is preferable to the rural school." Decision is to be made on points in argument, elocution and English. The judges have not yet been named.

From now until December 10 Small Brothers' furniture stock will be sold at reduced prices.

Your last chance to order Christmas cards will soon be gone and those who have not yet secured them should look over what we have at the STAR office, ranging in price from $1 per dozen to $5.

Mrs. Ed. Burton, accompanied by Mrs. George Burton, of Red Deer, who visited here for a few days, left yesterday for Star City, Sask., where they will visit friends and relatives for a few months.

RATEPAYERS' ANNUAL MEETING GAVE THOSE WHO ATTENDED A FULL EXPLANATION OF AFFAIRS

REMARKABLE PRESERVATION OF SHRINE

Ruined Convent in Nieupert. The convent of the Sisters of the Poor after the terrible fighting at Nieupert showing shrine and crucifix through a gaping hole in the wall. Note that the statue was unharmed although directly in line of the shell.

THE STAR CHANGES HANDS

Although reports have been in circulation for the past two months, the effect that the STAR had changed hands, these rumors being in turn denied, it can now be stated on authority that Norman E. Cook is no longer editor of this publication. The good will, plant, fixtures, subscription lists, etc. were transferred and Mr. Will T. Webb, late of Edmonton, where he was engaged in newspaper work, is the new editor.

The union bond, who now retires, has been in charge of the STAR for four years, during which time an honest effort has been made to serve all subscribers and patrons with nothing but the best in clean journalism. How far we have missed the mark with this aim, subscribers are in a better position to judge.

It is now requested and hoped that the generous patronage I have enjoyed and appreciated will be continued and extended to my much more worthy successor, whose ability as a competent newspaper man on papers much larger than the STAR is deserving of every success here.

A special appeal is made to all patrons whose excellent support has given the STAR an enviable standing in the sphere of western journalism. Without advertising and co-operation the existence of any newspaper will be short-lived. The "Wainwright Star" is, I believe, one of the town's best assets, and has been looked on in this light by those who helped it in its struggle for existence.

Mr. Webb will speak for himself, and I believe that no patron of the STAR will regret the change. It is to be hoped that nothing will be put in the way to impede the progress of the STAR.

NORMAN E. COOK.

ENJOYABLE TIME AT EUCRE PARTY

The fourth annual eucure and whist party was held in the Elite theatre Monday night and was attended by upwards of one hundred and fifty people. An enjoyable time was spent and after the affair was over a dance was held for which music was supplied by the Wainwright Orchestra. Six prizes for eucure and six prizes for whist were awarded.

Rev. Father Carpentier rendered a selection on the piano and succeeded in pleasing those who attended as evidenced by their generous applause. A duet by Rev. Father Carpentier and Father Lamere was also rendered. The orchestra's music was one of the features of the evening.

S. E. James, former manager of the Merchants Bank here, but now one of the inspectors for Alberta and B.C. branches, was here yesterday and while in this vicinity inspected the branch at Chauvin.

Small Brothers will remove from the Alberta Block, Main St. on December 10th to the first door east of the post office, Second Ave.

M. W. Jones, of Paradise Valley, nineteen miles north of Edmonton, was a visitor in town today.

J. G. Morton, late of the Camrose district, who purchased the Wilcox farm a few miles north of town, has arrived here with his wife and family and will take up permanent residence on his newly acquired quarter section. Mr. Morton brought forty head of cattle with him as well as ten head of horses. He will prove a valuable farmer for the Wainwright district as he has the experience behind him to warrant success.

George Smith brought in a drove of fifteen hundred and seventy sheep from Sleepy Hollow, one hundred miles south-east of here on Saturday. He will winter the drove on Vern Graham's farm, south of town. Mr. Smith is one of the largest sheep ranchers in this vicinity and recently disposed of more than one thousand.

Mrs. Andrew Gall, of Edmonton, and formerly of Wainwright, is a guest of Mrs. L. D. Goldsworthy for a few days.

J. R. McIntyre, one of the first engineers to run out of here, left yesterday for Prince Rupert. He is well up on the list and has been given a passenger run between Smithers and Prince Rupert.

M. Meeklenburg, the celebrated eye specialist of twenty years experience, will be at the Wainwright Hotel on Saturday next, December 5, where he may be consulted professionally.

P. E. ROSS PASSED LIGHT CRITICISMS TOWARDS COUNCIL

Financial Statement Submitted by Secretary Kenny in Concise Manner.

A representative body of ratepayers attended the annual public meeting in the council chamber Monday night and among those to show their interest in municipal affairs was P. E. Ross, who was the only one present to take advantage of the opportunity to discuss town affairs generally, offering as he did a few criticisms in the direction of those who have served the town on the council board for the past year.

THE FINANCIAL REPORT

The financial report, copies of which were in the hands of the ratepayers at the meeting, was brought down by Secretary Kenny in the absence of Councillor Beaudry, as chairman of the Finance Committee. Every item in the statement was fully and minutely explained in such a manner that a child might readily have understood how and where the public monies have been spent from January 1st, to October 31st. A few questions were asked by P. E. Ross.

On an invitation to the ratepayers being given by Mayor Lally to discuss municipal affairs, P. E. Ross was the only one present to rise and give his opinion of the manner in which the town's affairs had been administered during the past twelve months. Reference was made to the murder of W. B. Crawford in May last and the late action of the council, which, he thought, resembled a death bed repentance, in offering a reward for the apprehension of the murderer. A reward should have been offered long before, if for no other reason than to show that Wainwright was making every effort to keep down crime.

REPORTS OF COMMITTEES

Councilor Snyder, chairman of Public Works, then gave his report on the work of his committee, explaining that not a great deal of work had been done. Necessary improvements such as sidewalks, crossings, the completion of the rink tank and the construction of a pipe line from the G.T.P., were made. Councilor Mills reported as chairman of Fire, Water and Light. He stated that the equipment was in first class shape and that it was amply efficient with a supply of at least 175,000 gallons of water to draw from in the business area of the town.

Secretary Kenny in speaking for the Health Committee stated that the town was never in a cleaner condition and that the scavenging had been done well at an expense the town could well afford to pay for the service it was getting. Councilor Smith was called upon as chairman of the By-Law Committee and stated that the Secretary had covered the work of his committee.

SCHOOL BOARD SECRETARY.

S. D. Mills, Secretary of the school board, then submitted the financial report for the school district, in which it was shown that affairs were in good order. The several reports of Principal Brodie and Inspector McGregor were referred to, and on the authority of the Department of Education the Secretary stated that the average attendance at the Wainwright school during the past year was better than at any school in any town or city in the whole province.

Chairman of the school board, J. L. Gerow, then gave his report and explained the different systems on which the board had carried on the year's work and the innovations, which, he believed, were working out satisfactorily. The school was in a prosperous condition and the staff of teachers was most efficient.

GILT EDGE MAKES FINE RESPONSE TO CALL FOR MONEY

Residents there Raise $115 for Patriotic Fund at Successful Concert and Dance.

The patriotic concert and meeting held at Gilt Edge on Friday evening, was attended by three hundred and fifty people and the receipts taken in which will go into the Patriotic Fund were $115. A splendid program was arranged by the Gilt Edge people and H.C. King of this town proved very interesting and among those who attended were many from Wainwright who drove or motored out in spite of bad roads and a journey of fifteen miles.

George L. Hudson, M.P.P. was chairman of the meeting and killed the chair with wit to himself and to the people who arranged the program. His address was much enjoyed and the part taken by H.C. King in the program was also much appreciated by the people of Gilt Edge. Several instrumental selections by the Zazie brothers of Hope Valley were rendered. Selections by Gilt Edge artists proved a surprise to many and were well received. A dance was held afterwards, music being supplied by the O'Neilley Orchestra. Quite a number stayed for the dance and until the morning hours the hall was crowded.

REMARKS MADE BY P. E. ROSS.

On an invitation to the ratepayers being given by Mayor Lally to discuss municipal affairs, P. E. Ross was the only one present to rise and give his opinion of the manner in which the town's affairs had been administered during the past twelve months. Reference was made to the murder of W. B. Crawford in May last and the late action of the council, which, he thought, resembled a death bed repentance, in offering a reward for the apprehension of the murderer. A reward should have been offered long before, if for no other reason than to show that Wainwright was making every effort to keep down crime.

The question of salaries and their reduction were referred to by Mr. Ross with the expression to his belief that Secretary Kenny was doing his work in a most efficient manner and perhaps with more attention than he would give his own business affairs. He thought that the council should have a representative on the board of trade and agricultural society to see how the money granted to these organizations from the town was being expended.

LARGE ATTENDANCE AT MISSIONARY BANQUET

In the Oddfellows' Hall on Wednesday evening last, the Laymen's Missionary movement held a banquet that proved successful in every sense of the word. The attendance was large and the speakers representative, including Messrs. Wood, Scott and Rev. Earle. The banquet brought home to the many assembled the importance of the Laymen's Missionary movement and the part it has played in the evangelization of the world.

AT THE ELITE

Next installment of LUCILLE LOUPE Series to be Shown Tuesday, December 8th.

Loubeque disguises as a Chinese mandarin when he finds that Lucille is aboard the boat with the coveted documents. Later Lucille is attacked by the captain only to be saved from his brutality by the interference of Loubeque. But here Lucille recognizes the spy and puts herself on guard against him. With the knowledge that the papers must be valuable, the captain steals the papers from Lucille. He again attacks her but the girl draws a revolver, forces him to the deck and there exposes him. By this time general unrest is prevalent on board and members of the crew divide and carry on a mutiny. Some take the side of Lucille and others that of the captain. A battle on deck follows and when Lucille and her followers seem to be doomed, Loubeque, unexpectedly comes to the aid of the girl. But only for an instant is the danger passed for a battleship is sighted. With the boat carrying contraband arms to China, the crew realize that capture will mean imprisonment. All now turn against Lucille and join the captain. The captain, again in command, has Loubeque thrown overboard while Lucille is put in a row boat with a jug of water and is cast adrift on the South Seas. Ultimately she rescues Loubeque who shows the greatest consideration towards her even to cover her at night with his coat. But both are adrift on the South Seas and neither has the documents.

The annual meeting of the Hospital Union will be held in the council chamber at 3 p.m. on Monday, December 7th, when the election of officers for the coming year will be held.

Starting yesterday, the primary department at the school started at 9:30 instead of 9 o'clock as heretofore. All the departments will close at the same time, 3:30 p.m.

GRATTAN OIL CO. STARTED DRILL THIS MORNING

Mayor Lally Interviewed on the Question of Town Going after Gas.

Operations have now been commenced by the Grattan Oil and Gas Company for the drilling for oil on 145-8, located ten miles west of here, and two miles south of the Battle River Bridge. Joseph Snyder, oil operator of New York, was in town on Monday during which time he interviewed Mayor Lally with a view to opening up negotiations with the town for a contract to drill for gas on lands held by the town of Wainwright in this vicinity.

As to what will be done in regard to this proposal will be a matter that, of course, will be decided by the incoming administration.

According to Mr. Snyder, who is here in the interests of the Grattan Oil Company, the field upon which operations have now been commenced for the discovery of oil will be proven with the next ninety days. Mr. Snyder has expressed the opinion that the prospects are extremely good and that every hope is entertained for a successful conclusion of the drilling.

The Auxiliary of St. Thomas Anglican church, will hold a sale of fancy work and home cooking on Saturday, December 5, from 2:30 until 6 o'clock in the office of the Wainwright Realty Company.

District Court

The District Court is in session here today, Judge Lees presiding. The case of R. Wakefield, vs. Chas. Lindsay in a claim for the amount of a note made by J. Terryberry and Chas. Lindsay was heard and adjourned to the next sitting of the court. Robert Hunter who appeared for the plaintiff stating that an offer of settlement had been made by the defendant.

Another case, that of John Brophy against Ed. Carney, in which the plaintiff claims $274 to be due him for wages was heard as well. M. G. Cardell for the plaintiff applied for adjournment on the ground that he was not ready to proceed. The judge adjourned the case and made an order that the plaintiff pay the cost of the adjournment on the defendant's witness fees at least 10 days before the next sitting, otherwise the case would be dismissed. Robert Hunter appeared for the defendant.

WAINWRIGHT ALTA. WEDNESDAY, DEC. 2nd, 1914

LOYAL CITIZENS OWE DUTY TO THEIR TOWN.

FROM A SENSE OF LOYALTY to Wainwright, if nothing else, there should be candidates nominated on Monday next for the mayoralty and council to fill the vacancies of these whose terms will expire at the close of the year. It is imperative that nominations should be made if the municipal machinery is to be kept running and the business of the town transacted as it should be. As yet, few if any have signified their willingness to even accept a nomination, let alone consent to stand an election in the event of more than the necessary nominations be received.

Last year it was only at the last minute that sufficient nominations were received to make a full council board and had it proved otherwise the situation might have proved awkward as it would have proved unique in the history of western towns, where it usually proves the case that aspirations for municipal honours are made by many. Especially is this true of the cities where candidates are as many this year as ever before.

It is usually customary for successive mayors to be elected from councillors who have served their time on former council boards and so it is believed, it should prove in this case. On the other hand if sweeping changes are advocated entirely new men are sometimes in the field to test their principles against former administrations. It is not believed, however, that the present form of municipal government could be much improved on and for that reason, the STAR is not of the opinion that untied men will venture into the field. It would then appear that it should devolve upon former councillors who can boast of experience in municipal proceedings to accept a nomination next Monday. It is these men who owe it as a duty more than any others to consent to stand for election if necessary, and we believe it is a thing devoutly to be wished by the majority of ratepayers and that no opposition of any kind will be put in the way of their election.

GERMAN HATRED OF THE ENGLISH PEOPLE.

EVEN THOUGH THERE are in Canada at the present time a good many thousand Germans of German birth, and even though they profess at times to be sympathetic with the allies in the present continental struggle there are doubtless many among them who, in spite of their naturalization as British subjects, entertain the hope that German arms may prove successful and that the Fatherland will not be set back in any way by either serious defeat or loss of prestige among the great powers of today.

Germans in Canada are in a peculiar position which must be at times rather uncomfortable when they hear what loyal subjects of King George have to say of their country and people. They must put up with it, however, and are compelled to listen to what is said. That it must gail them is certain. It would gail a Britisher in Germany and the same applies to many Germans in this country.

It is a common axiom that blood flows thicker than water and it is reasonable to say that German tendencies will lean more towards their own people than that of those whose customs they have adopted. Should the Germans win out in the strife which now engages the great powers of Europe, these Germans in Canada will become bold and will not hesitate to express themselves in a more outspoken manner than they dare to now.

Many citizens of Canada of German descent have already shown their teeth and the authorities, it is believed, have been altogether too lenient with them. There is no reason why these people who have taken advantage of British freedom in this way should not be made to suffer as a British subject in Germany would be compelled to were he to even speak against the German nation. The knife should cut both ways and make as deep an impression in this country as in Germany.

The time should be near at hand when all Germans will be called upon to answer for what they have said and done against the whole civilized world as well as the British peoples.

A VIOLENT OUTBURST FROM A GERMAN SOURCE.

THE BERLIN CORRESPONDENT of the New York Sun quoting Privy Councillor Witting, former burgomaster of Posen and President of the National Bank of Germany, has the following to say of the German hatred for Great Britain.—"It is a fight between England and Germany to the bitter end, to the last German, if need be. It is a war of annihilation between these two nations. England has wanted it; so let it be. We want no quarter from England; we shall give none. We shall never ask England for mercy and shall extend no mercy to her. England, and England alone, has brought on this criminal war out of greed and envy to crush Germany, and now it is death, destruction and annihilation to one or the other. Tell your American people that, and say that these words do not come from a fanatic, but from a quiet business man who knows the feeling of his people, God, how we hate England, that nation of criminals and criminals, who have brought this misery upon us and the world."

According to Herr Witting the Germans felt only pity and regret for France and that the feeling against Russia was subsiding, whereas against England there was growing among high and low the most fanatical hatred and contempt that one nation ever had towards another. In his opinion it would prove a long war and no matter how many Germans were killed, England would never conquer Germany.

This, it is believed, is a fair sample of what hatred the Teutons have for the British. What is more they make no redundant statements and their expressions convey in a clear manner their estimation of their present enemies. England is the greater power and it is only natural that smaller canines will bark at the heels of their fearful masters who are larger in size. The Germans are only human and it is perhaps natural that they should feel towards a greater nation as they do towards Great Britain.

RATEPAYERS ANNUAL MEETING GAVE FULL EXPLANATION AFFAIRS

Before resuming his seat and after referring to school board matters, with due praise to the late principal and his successor, Principal Brodie, Mr. Ross took occasion to refer to the expenditure of the school board of some $95 for a flag pole and the agitation which at that time was started by the Wainwright Star. He believed that it was a wise expenditure and that the school board should go even farther if necessary to teach the children to salute the Union Jack. In further dealing with this matter, he said that no reference had been made in the Star's attack to any excess expenditure in other directions. He himself had voted for a $9,000 skating rink and not for one that had cost almost twice that amount. The same held true of the ice hall and other expenditures made by the town. The Star might have referred to this at the same time the $95 flag pole was being criticized. H. C. King, who sat next Mr. Ross as he expostulated on this thread-bare question, found some difficulty, it appeared, controlling himself and his feelings as his side of the flag pole controversy was being handled in such a masterly manner by this able critic.

CRITICISMS NOT HARSH

Mr. Ross' criticisms were by no means harsh and for the most part quite sensible and entirely in order at a meeting of this kind. In the event of meetings of this nature being held more often and were more ratepayers to give full expression to the courage of their convictions, the way might be made easier for the mayor and council to act in a manner to please the people. Instead of this and much different from the attitude displayed by Mr. Ross, dog-in-the-manger methods of attacking the council in all it does are sometimes practised.

THE MAYOR'S CLOSING REMARKS
Mayor Lally who occupied the chair closed the meeting by a short address to the ratepayers present. He first touched on the reference made to the rink by Mr. Ross and explained that this asset should be the best off even though it had cost more than the people sanctioned. The matter of reducing salaries had been suggested and even recommended by the town secretary. Criticisms had also been made on account of the street lights being placed in a location where he and several councillors resided and that only one at the corner of Main and Second Ave. had been burning of late. He stated that the expense in the past of keeping four lights burning had been made with some success, which would cut out future breakages of globes, the cause of most of the expense.

In regard to the finances of the town, Mayor Lally stated that the expenditure had been kept down wherever possible and that even though the statement showed a surplus of $14,000 this was necessary in view of taxes being in arrears to this amount at all times of the year. He was pleased that the council had not had many severe criticisms and that his term of office for the past two years had been pleasant. There was talk of putting in a council for next year to run the town better by a general reduction in salaries and cheaper business methods. This he would not advise. Secretary Kenny had the town's interests at heart and certainly could not be overpaid for the work he did. The town was getting excellent service from the scavenger and he could not be improved on. In considering next year's mayor and council he urged the ratepayers to consider these things.

It had afforded him great pleasure to serve the town in such a honorable position for the past two years and he had nothing but the kindest thoughts for those with whom he had been associated and those he would leave behind him on the council at the close of the year.

Happy and glorious,
Long to reign over us—

On him be pleased to pour;
Long may he reign.
May he defend our laws,
And ever give us cause,
To sing with heart and voice,
God save the King.

"THE MARSEILLAISE"

Ye sons of France awake to glory!
Hark, hark, what myriads bid you rise!
Your children, wives and grandsons glory
Behold their tears and hear their cries.
Behold their tears and hear their cries!
Shall hateful tyrants, mischief breeding,
With hireling hosts, a ruffian band;
Afright and desolate the land,
While peace and liberty lie bleeding!

To arms, to arms, ye brave!
Th' avenging sword unsheath!
March on, march on,
All, all hearts resolved
On victory or death!

"RULE, BRITANNIA!"

When Britain first, at Heaven's command
Arose from out the azure main
This was the charter, the charter of the land,
And guardian angels sang this strain:
Chorus
Rule, Britannia! Britannia rules the waves!
Britons never, never, never shall be slaves.
The nations not so blind as these,
Must in, must in, must in their turn
To tyrants fall, while thou shalt flourish
great and free,
The dread and envy of them all.
